

Gary Vesperman

For over two decades Gary Vesperman has been accumulating an extensive database of some of the world's most advanced technologies and inventions. Retired Lockheed physicist Patrick Bailey's padrak.com/vesperman links to a thousand pages of Gary's invention descriptions that have resulted from Gary's research and collaboration with numerous scientists and inventors – a few of whom are arguably among the world's most creative.

Gary Vesperman was a technical writer with 17 Silicon Valley computer companies including Control Data, Amdahl, Verbatim, Ampex, and H-P, and with EG&G Special Projects in Las Vegas.

Gary Vesperman earned his B.S. Electrical Engineering degree from University of Wisconsin-Madison in 1968. Ken Rasmussen photographed Gary at the 2011 PowerGen convention in Las Vegas. Ken maintains commutefaster.com/vesperman.html.
